

Quality Benefits

Project management provides 3 qualitative benefits.

Communication: Engaging with a Project Manager provides a single point of contact who will interact with all stakeholders in your project. Establishing a clear understanding of scope, cost and schedule deliverables to the team is essential and requires a substantial amount of time. Our team will provide a streamlined approach for communications and will allow your team to focus on what's important – your business operations.

Consultant Partnerships: Project Management provides expertise in vendor & consultant engagement. Our team will provide metrics and criteria for requesting proposals, interviewing and establishing confidence in the right partnerships. Avoid contracting with a consultant that may have too many projects already engaged, who might be only a business development face to their company or may not have the right expertise in your project needs. Our team will provide a structured process that will allow you to see all criteria in making a final selection for partnership.

Finished Product: Avoid unsightly finishes or poor-quality craftsmanship to a finished space. Project Management sets up regular site visits to review progress, engage with the contractors and coordinates with General Contract partners for priority of action. With regular site visits our team can identify deficiencies and get the issues resolved before it impacts the schedule.

Qualitative standards and processes need to be intentional to making your project successful. Through years of experience working in design, construction and management roles – our team can add the necessary support in making sure your project produces quality results at each phase.

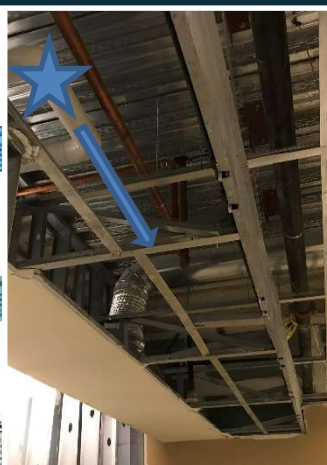

Site Issues

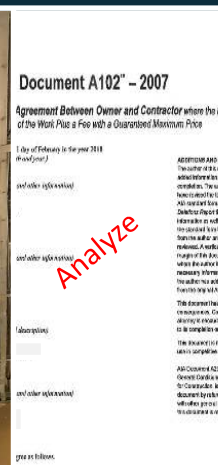

Workflow Clarity

Site Corrections

Contract Review

Missed Scope

